Crabbe Act Lost Anti-Wets Claim Three Issues Safe

Columbus, O., Nov. 7.—That the Crabbe act is defeated, that it will require the official count to determine whether federal prohibition has been ratified, but that the dries have won on the state wide prohibition and the 2 3-4 per cent beer and wine proposals was the belief expressed at noon today by election officials at the secretary of state's office.

This belief is based upon the tabulation of practically complete returns from 78 of Ohio's 88 counties. Of the returns, those from 30 counties are official and complete, while those from the remaining 48 counties, although unofficial, are practically complete.

Tabulation of these returns gave the following results:
Crabbe act yes 438,526; no 471,246; wet majority 32,720.
Ratification of national prohibition, yes 461,926; no 471,080; wet majority 9,154.

Repeal of the state wide prohibition yes 431,383; no 458,200; dry majority 26,817.
Two and three quarters per cent beer and light wines, yes 448,395; no 461,083; dry majority 12,688.

Columbus, O., Nov. 7.—"We have on everything except the Crabbe bill," declared Supt. White, of the Ohio Anti-Saloon League today.

Columbus, Nov. 7.—Defeat of the Crabbe prohibition enforcement act by 20,000, the result on ratification of national prohibition doubtful, repeal of state wide prohibition lost by 30,000 and 2 3-4 per cent beer and wines lost by 20,000 were the estimates prevalent here this afternoon relative to Tuesday's election in Ohio.

These estimates are based upon practically complete returns available at Secretary of State Smith's office from 59 counties, considered in the light of the fact that 27 of the counties still out polled dry majorities last year. Only two of the missing counties, Auglaize and Erie are wet. The figures as announced at the secretary of state's office give a wet majority of 728 on the proposal to repeal state wide prohibition, a wet lead of 14,328 on the proposed 2 3-4 per cent amendment, a wet majority of 29,110 against ratification and a 50,675 wet lead opposing the Crabbe act.

The counties still out gave a dry majority of 27,894 last year. This will have to be increased at least 1,211 votes in order for dry to win out on the ratification issue. Election officials do not believe the dries can overcome the wet lead against the Crabbe act.

"If the Crabbe act has been defeated, we will have been successful exactly in the order of the importance of the measures," declared Supt. White, of the Ohio Anti-Saloon League. White would not concede defeat of the Crabbe act.

"We regard the repeal amendment the most important, the beer amendment second, ratification third and the Crabbe act the least important," said White.

That returns from 85 of Ohio's 88 counties, those of Harrison, Lawrence and Mercer missing, show the wets have defeated ratification by 9,766 was the claim made by L. H. Gibson manager of the Ohio Home Rule Association. Gibson did not believe the dry vote in three missing counties would overcome the wet lead.

Based on the returns Gibson has received repeal of state wide prohibition lost by 30,000 and the light wine and beer proposal was defeated by 20,000.

Secretary of State Smith has written 35 county election boards requesting them to send in their "excuses" for failing to forward election returns to the secretary of state's office on Wednesday.

Canton, O., Nov. 7.—Two sons of Michael Heckman, living two miles south of North Industry, found last night the safe which had been stolen the night before from the soft drink place of Louis Koret of Massillon. The door was blown from the safe and $1,300 in cash and liberty bonds taken. The safe had been hauled ten miles in a truck.

GAUZY ATTIRE OF GIRLS CAUSES PREACHER TO QUIT

Port Chester, N. Y., Nov. 7.—The "S. R. O." sign became a manent fixture at the tuberculosis fund pageant here today as a result of the advertising given to the bare legs of 16 high school girl performers by the Rev. Dr. H. B. Heald, the Episcopal clergyman.

Up to the time when the Rev. Dr. Heald attacked the "immodest exhibition" and resigned as one of the patrons, the crowds had been only moderately large. Now they are tremendous. Officials in charge of the pageant declare that they see nothing in the girls bare legs and gauzy attire to scandalize anyone.

SENATOR SAYS LOSS OF TAX LAW FORCES LISTING

Columbus, O., Nov. 7.—The overwhelming defeat of the classification amendment at the election booths of Ohio last Tuesday is an "unmistakable instruction to general assembly of Ohio to force positive enlistment of all property in the state at 100 per cent valuation," says a statement issued by State Senator Frank Parrett, of Washington C. H., Republican, chairman of the legislative joint taxation committee. Senator Parrett, it is said, favored classification.

"Such instruction has been so clearly expressed that there can be no evasion of legislative responsibility," continued Parrett.

"All effort must be in the direction of securing and placing all property, of every kind and character, upon the duplicate for the purpose of taxation. The way has been made definitely pointed out to the general assembly. I have hope that it will travel in the direction indicated.

"The constitution says all property must be taxed at its true value in money. The people have fervently affirmed that principle. The general assembly, obviously, must act accordingly. I await with confidence its vigorous and courageous action."

ARMY CHAPLAIN NOW COMMANDER A. L. POST

The Rev. William P. O'Connor who was a chaplain in the Thirty-seventh Division overseas, is the commander of the new Wilbur H. Thomas Post No. 159 of the American Legion, which was organized in Jamestown Thursday night.

Father O'Connor is now pastor of St. Augustine's church, Jamestown, to which he was assigned after his discharge from the service. Holding the commission of lieutenant while overseas, his commission as captain was received after his return to this country. He was assistant pastor of an Urbana church before being made an army chaplain.

Other officers of the new Thomas Post are Clay Mauck, vice commander and Morris Sharp, post adjutant. Wilbur Thomas in whose memory the post was named was a son of Mr. and Mrs. William Thomas. He was a sailor and was drowned in Boston harbor when a small boat in which he was sailing capsized. He is the only service man from Jamestown who lost his life.

AID IN ESCAPE FROM FIRE, BOYS OF XENIA CITED

Walter Jobe and Richard Gowdy, Xenia students at the University of Pennsylvania, were heroes of the fire which damaged Logan Hall, the Wharton school building at the university last week.

The boys were apparently too modest to tell the story themselves but information which came to this paper from another student at the school, is to the effect that Mr. Jobe was assisting a co-ed to escape from a smoke filled corridor and stumbled over a fallen timber. Mr. Gowdy who was close gave a helping hand, and assisted his roommate and the young girl from the building. Both boys won considerable praise for their act.

Mr. Gowdy and Mr. Jobe are roommates. They were in the industry class on the fourth floor of the building, when the fire broke out. Martin Wolf another Xenia student was also in this class. While there many thrilling escapes recorded among the 1,500 students in the burning building, nobody was hurt.

The fire started in a pile of papers stored for the university publications. The flames were racing over the highly inflammable material and smoke pouring from the store room, when the blaze was discovered.

There were only a few co-eds among the 1,500 students in the building when the fire broke out. The blaze was confined to the basement, but dense smoke filled the rest of the structure.

ADMINISTRATION LEADERS WILL INVOKE DRASTIC RULE TO CURB DEBATE ON PEACE TREATY, THREAT

Washington, Nov. 7.—With administration leaders threatening to invoke the cloture rule to curb debate, the senate today proceeded with the consideration of the peace treaty reported out by the majority of the foreign relations committee.

Democratic senators in conference until late last night devised means for speeding the consideration of the treaty and Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, administration leader, stated today that if ceaseless debate continued that the minority party would invoke the cloture rule.

Senator Hitchcock was expected to see the president shortly, perhaps today, and to lay before him the entire situation. With the president's attitude clearly defined it was believed that the administration senators would resort to every possible move for quick action.

Republican leaders, who were thrown into a flurry yesterday by the precipitate action of Senator Hitchcock in asking for an immediate vote for ratification, were still certain today that the treaty will be disposed of by the end of another week.

TODAY ANNIVERSARY OF GREATEST HOAX IN HISTORY--END OF WAR

A year ago today, November 7, the country celebrated the premature announcement that an armistice between the allies and Germans and Austria had been declared.

In common with every city and village in the country, Xenia went wild with joy. The news was received about noon and was announced by the prolonged shrieking of whistles and ringing of bells. It spread like wildfire.

Within a short time the streets were filled with a surging mob of people, who gave vent to their joy in every conceivable way. An impromptu parade was formed and those who could not find room in an automobile plodded afoot, every manner of noise making device being used to add to the bedlam. The rejoicing continued until midnight.

Strikers Storm Car Filled With Negroes

Youngstown, O., Nov. 7.—After pulling the trolley pole down, strikers stoned a Poland avenue street car loaded with negro steel workers at Caledonia street at 5 a. m., breaking many windows in the car. Terror strikers, the negroes piled pell-mell from the car and beat a hasty retreat declaring they would not go to work on a street car again. As far as could be learned no one was hurt. No arrests were made as the crowd had scattered before the police could reach the scene.

SIXTY-FIVE TRAINS ARE REMOVED FROM SCHEDULE

Chicago, Nov. 7.—Sixty-five passenger trains entering Chicago were taken from the railroad schedule today "for the duration of the coal strike."

This suspension of service was ordered in compliance with the request of the railroad administration to "curtail train service as much as possible to preserve the present supply of coal."

The trains removed from schedule include 51 trains of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul line and 14 operated by the Chicago and North Western line.

SCIENCE GIVES CURE OF STRIKES

Pittsburgh, Pa., Nov. 7.—Strikes of coal miners need not worry the future generations. The coal's energy can be obtained and harnessed as it lies in the ground.

The process is quite simple. Holes are drilled into the coal seams. Air and steam are then pumped into the holes and the coal is changed into a combustible gas which is pumped out of other holes. The combustible gas so produced may be converted into electricity by central power stations, or may be distributed in pipes by the usual method.

The theory is known to the scientific world. One of the customary and most efficient methods of getting energy from coal in large manufacturing plants is to make from it a combustible gas by pumping air and steam through the coal into gas producers. Sir Oliver Lodge, eminent English scientist, recently proposed doing the same thing underground.

Dr. Raymond F. Bacon director of the Mellon Institute advances the plan as a curb on high wages and labor troubles at the mines.

"LIGHTLESS NIGHTS" MAY COME AGAIN TO CONSERVE FUEL

Washington, Nov. 7.—The coal strike threatens to put the lights out.

Dr. Garfield, fuel administrator, was today making plans for putting into effect an order for "lightless nights" if the coal strike is not brought to an end shortly. Dr. Garfield stated that the "lightless nights" during the war saved approximately 500,000 tons of coal in a year.

ANNOUNCE MARRIAGE OF COUPLE OCTOBER 23

Miss Ruth Loyd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Loyd of this city, was married to Noah F. Devault of Cedarville, in Newport, Ky., October 23. Announcement of their marriage is just being made by the young couple.

Telling her parents that she was to spend the day in Wilmington attending the fall festival, Miss Loyd instead joined Mr. Devault for a trip to New port where the license was obtained and the marriage service read by a Methodist clergyman. Mr. and Mrs. Devault returned home without disclosing the fact of their marriage, but the news began leaking out among their friends.

FLORIDA PLANS TO CELEBRATE CENTENNIAL PURCHASE FROM SPAIN

Jacksonville, Fla., Nov. 7.—Florida will produce in 1922 an international exposition celebrating the centennial of the purchase of the territory of Florida by the United States from Spain. Pensacola and Jacksonville are the only contenders for the honor of presenting the exposition and the Florida Centennial commission will next week visit both cities to inspect proposed sites and to hear financial plans.

It is the plan of the commission which was created by the last Legislature to operate the exposition twelve months and to carry it through on a world's fair scale, inviting participation by foreign countries and all the States of the Union. Jacksonville already has raised more than a million dollars for preliminary expenses, and it is thought that Pensacola is prepared to match this sum.

SECOND BOMB OUTRAGE OCCURS IN PENNSYLVANIA

Doner, Pa., Nov. 7.—The second bomb outrage here in two days occurred last night when a street car filled with steel workers was hurled from the tracks by an explosion of dynamite. Several of the men were bruised but no one was hurt seriously.

BERLIN FEARS OUTBREAK

Berlin, Nov. 7.—Barbed wire entanglements and machine guns have been placed around the official residence of President Frederick Ebert as a precaution against any outbreaks on the anniversary of the German revolution on Sunday.

COMPLETE SURRENDER OF UNITED MINE HEADS ESSENTIAL-PALMER

Washington, Nov. 7.—"The department of justice will not surrender," declared Attorney General Palmer today after a conference with Samuel Gompers and other labor leaders who urged him to take steps to have the government vacate its injunction proceedings in the coal strike.

The attorney general went directly to the White house from the conference. He did not stop at the cabinet rooms but went to the White House.

Gompers declared he had protested against the injunction proceedings to the attorney general Frank Morrison and Matthew Woll, who accompanied Mr. Gompers, refused to talk of their conference.

"The department of justice will not surrender," said Attorney General Palmer as he hurried to the White House. The situation is unchanged. There must be an unconditional surrender."

After a brief stop at the White House the attorney general went into the cabinet meeting, evidently having left a message for the president with Mrs. Wilson.

Backed by a united government front, stiffened in its firm resolve to assert the policy of law and order, by the trend of recent political events, Judge C. B. Ames, chief lieutenant of Attorney General Palmer, will arrive in Indianapolis today, where tomorrow he will ask Federal Judge Anderson to make it mandatory upon acting-President John L. Lewis and other heads of the United Mine Workers of America to rescind the strike order which has impelled four hundred thousand members to forsake their posts of duty. But one thing will halt the government's determination to proceed against the union heads as lawbreakers and that is this, their calling off the strike. In what manner this may be brought about is not concerning the government. Reports that government agencies were at work to bring about a compromise were yesterday unequivocally denied by responsible officials.

This is the last day of grace of the seven allowed by Judge Anderson to enable the leaders to counsel among themselves or to negotiate with their opponents.

John C. Lewis, leader of the coal strike, will go to jail before he will rescind the strike order without a satisfactory settlement, according to an "official" statement issued today by Edgar Wallace, Washington representative of the United Mine Workers of America.

"This strike will go on, even though they all go to jail," declared Wallace. The miners have shown so far that they need no leaders while on a strike. This strike is not a thing fomented by leaders. The men were driven to strike by economic necessity. They were forced into the strike by the operators."

Director General Hines of the railroad administration and Fuel Administrator Carfield were summoned to the White House today to attend the cabinet meeting.

Reports to the department of justice today indicated that non-union mines are producing to their maximum because of the exodus of union workers to the non-union mines.

No reports of violence during the strike have reached the department of justice and officials today declared it to be the quietest strike on record.

STATE'S RIGHTS ISSUE BOBS UP IN NEW JERSEY

Jersey City, N. J., Nov. 7.—A situation akin to that which existed just prior to the Civil war has been created, politicians said today, by the election of Edward I. Edwards to be governor of New Jersey. Edwards made his campaign on a platform in which the principal plank was that he would bend every effort to "make New Jersey as wet as the Atlantic ocean."

To hold that the right of a sovereign state in the matter of prohibition is paramount to that of the nation.

"I construe my election," said Governor-Elect Edwards, "as an indication of the feelings of the people of this state concerning prohibition. Holding their mandate, I shall use all legal methods to preserve inviolate the sovereignty of the people."

"I do not think a law is a good law which is not concurred in by the state. This state has not concurred in the enforcement of prohibition."

Politicians pointed out today that this line of reasoning is the same which nearly caused South Carolina to secede from the union in 1833 over the Clay tariff act.

The state of New Jersey, it was said today will not lift a finger to aid the federal government in the enforcement of national prohibition.

THIEVES STEAL HIDES FROM LOCAL CONCERN

Thieves who forced an entrance to the slaughter house of the Fisher Bros. meat market on Cincinnati avenue, stole $250 worth of hides Thursday evening.

The thieves probably made away with the hides by automobile. No trace of them could be obtained Friday morning, after the theft was discovered. Police were notified and Chief Canaday has sent out information concerning the theft.

The robbery makes the second time within a few days that the Fisher meat market has been victimized, a forger passing a check for thirty dollars on the concern a few days ago, after forging the name of M. A. Broadstone.

BRITISH WOMEN ENTER ROAD MENDING TRADE

London, Nov. 7.—Women have entered a new trade here—road mending.

Four women wearing blue overalls, caps and heavy boots were busy spraying tar near Oxford street, the shopping district, while other women in furs and lousines passed by. One workwoman was in charge of a tar sprayer, another spruce the hot tar evenly over the road surface and two other women swept small flintstones over the tar.

The women were employed by the Westminster City Council and did their jobs as efficiently as men. All were married women who took jobs in order to help meet the cost of living.

Splendid Way To Reduce Your Weight

There is perhaps no one thing that so plainly shows the passing of our youth as the horrible tendency to put on too much weight after we have reached the age of 25 or 30 years. However young our faces may appear, the sagging, flabby figure and forty inch waist "gives us away."

The cause of this over stoutness is that our stomachs convert the food we eat into fat because there is not enough oxygen in the blood to produce a proper combustion to destroy the excess fatty tissue. Fat people will be pleased to learn of a simple home method that is wonderfully efficient in reducing weight, quickly and easily without a starving diet, violent massage or strenuous exercise. Go to any drug store and get a box of Phynola, take five grains after each meal and at bed time. This treatment will often give quick relief from overburdening fat. Phynola taken at meal time assists the stomach in giving you the benefit of the food you eat; at the same time dissolves the fatty tissue from any part of the body where there is excessive fat. By this method many have reduced their flabbiness left. Sayre and Hemphill, or any druggist can supply you with the genuine Phynola at a small cost, weight a pound a day and there is no harm.

RAILROADS WILL USE ALL MEANS FOR PROTECTION OF INDUSTRIES

The following statement is authorized by L. W. Baldwin, Regional Director of the Allegheny region: "During the continuance of the bituminous coal strike every effort will be made by the railroads in Allegheny region in the distribution of coal on their lines to protect industries against shutting down and guarding against idleness to the greatest extent possible. To this end, however, the utmost care will be exercised in the granting of permits for the delivery of coal under the priority order of the United States Fuel Administrator. A regional coal committee, terminal committees at the large terminal points and committees on individual railroads have been created. It will be the duty of the organizations to see that the orders that the fuel Administration, the execution of which has been delegated to the United States Railroad Administration, are strictly and judiciously carried out. The method of procedure to be followed in order to secure coal is that all applications for coal for commercial consumers must be made through the local freight agent of the railroad which will make the delivery. This application must show complete and accurate information with respect to the preferred nature of the requirements, and amount of coal which the applicant has on hand, also the amount required for the preferred use, together with the rate of consumption and the kind and size of coal desired.

The railroad freight agent, being familiar with the conditions prevailing at the plant of the applicant, will make his recommendation and pass the application to the coal committee of the railroad which will make delivery with its approval; the application will then be forwarded to the regional coal committee for final authorization and granting of the permit.

To secure coal for inland and coastwise shipping the same method of procedure will have to be followed. Applications for permits however instead of being made to the freight agent as in the case of coal for commercial purposes should be made on the deputy commissioner of the Tidewater coal exchange, who will cooperate with the regional and the railroad coal committees and act as agent for the railroad making delivery. Coal thus diverted, shall be paid for in accordance with the fuel Administrator's order of January 14th, 1918, which states that: "The person or consumer to whom any such coal or coke is diverted shall become liable as to the time of such diversion, to pay to the shipper thereof the price in force at the date of shipment as fixed therefor or under the president of the United States plus transportation charges thereon and plus a handling charge of fifteen cents a net ton to cover cost rebilling, collection and replacement."

Catarrh Of The Stomach Is Dangerous

"Thousands Have It and Don't Know It," Says Physician. Frequently Mistaken for Indigestion.—How to Recognize and Treat.

"Thousands of people suffer more or less constantly from indigestion, coated tongue, bad breath, sour burning stomach, bitter eructations, gas, wind and acidity and call it indigestion when in reality their trouble is due to gastric catarrh of the stomach," writes a New York physician.

Catarrh of the stomach is dangerous because the mucous membrane lining of the stomach is thickened and a coating of phlegm covers the surface so that the digestive fluids cannot mix with the food and digest them. This condition soon breeds deadly disease in the fermented unassimilated food. The blood is polluted and carries the infection throughout the body. Gastric ulcers are apt to form and frequently an ulcer is the first sign of a deadly cancer.

In catarrh of the stomach a good and safe treatment is to take before meals a teaspoonful of pure Bisurated Magnesia in half a glass of hot water as hot as you can comfortably drink it. The hot water washes the mucous from the stomach walls and draws the blood to the stomach while the bisurated magnesia is an excellent solvent for mucus and increases the efficiency of the hot water treatment. Moreover the Bisurated Magnesia will serve as will neutralize any excess hydrochloric acid that may be in your stomach and digestion without distress of any kind should soon follow. Bisurated Magnesia is not a laxative, is harmless, pleasant and easy to take and can be obtained from any local druggist. Don't confuse Bisurated Magnesia with other forms of magnesia, milks, citrates etc., but get it in the pure bisurated form (powder or tablets), especially prepared for this purpose.

RESTORES VITALITY

Gives Strength to the Nervously Weak and Run-Down.

Peptiron is both medicine and food for the blood and nerves. It is in full accord with advanced science as to the proper treatment of anemic and neurasthenic conditions, in which the need of more and better nourishment is so apparent. It combines iron and manganese with nux, celery, peptin and other tonics and digestives. It supplies the deficiency of red blood corpuscles in anemia, repairs the waste of nerve tissue in nervousness, gives color and stamina, and restores vitality.

"I was run down and nervous. Peptiron has done me great good." Serena Rifenburg, Tivoli, N. Y. Made by C. I. Hood Co., Lowell, Mass.

Miss Mabel Quinn has taken a position as bookkeeper at the L. C. R. Storage Battery Station.

EXPRESSES A DESIRE TO AID MANY FRIENDS

Well Known Ironton Woman Says She'll Urge Them to Try Trutona.

Ironton, Ohio, Nov. 6, 1919—"I honestly think that Trutona is a wonderful medicine and I can recommend it to all of my friends who are suffering from troubles like mine," Mrs. C. Smith, 421 North Second street, said recently. Mrs. Smith, who is 62 years old, has lived in Ironton for the past forty-two years and is well known here.

"My principal ailment was stomach trouble from which I have suffered a number of years," Mrs. Smith said. "My appetite was poor and the little I ate always resulted in my experiencing a heavy bloated feeling in my stomach. I often had the headache and was usually constipated. I had become so nervous I couldn't sleep at night. I tried many different medicines but they didn't seem to help me.

"But that was before I found Trutona. I had been using Trutona only a few days when I noticed an improvement in my condition. Now, I can eat most anything without having trouble with my stomach afterwards. The heavy, bloated feeling has ceased to follow my meals. My constipation has been relieved and the headaches I formerly experienced at things of the past. My food seems to taste better, too, and I'm at last able to sleep well at night."

Trutona, the perfect tonic, is now being introduced and explained in Xenia at Sayre & Hemphill's.

THE POLITICAL GHOSTS OF 1920.

As far as political party ideas are concerned the United States today is "up in the air." One year before the decisive election of 1920 none of the leaders of either of the two big parties can forecast what plank or planks will be embodied in the leading platforms. Politicians are "between the devil and the deep sea." Candidates there are by the score, but not one complete platform exists. Not even a skeleton of a party platform has been formulated by party leaders.

The campaign thus far is a campaign of candidates, by candidates, for candidates. Issues are being avoided. Personalities alone are being advertised and discussed despite the fact that every politician knows or believes that the political policies or party issues will play the premier role in the coming national election. But there is a good reason for this situation. It is due to the fact that party labels no longer describe political groups in this country. Every old party is split. The names "Democratic," "Republican," "Socialist," "Prohibition" and "Socialist Labor" do not fit the present conditions. The ranks of the Democrats, the Republicans and the Socialists are divided. Leaders are divided. Organizations are separated along political, industrial and international lines.

Neither the Republicans nor the Democrats are able to act upon their judgment of public sentiment today. Political and industrial ideas are in a state of transition. Sentiment has not yet crystallized, although a majority of those who talk about politics today take it for granted that the Republicans will be victorious no matter what issue they champion or what candidate they nominate. Some of the Democratic aspirants have said that they did not know "whether the next nomination would be worth anything." They have been hit by the wave of Republicanism which spreads across the nation. The wind is blowing that way this year. Even rock-ribbed democratic Kentucky has elected a Republican Governor.

While the Democrats and Republicans are fighting among themselves, always behind the scenes, the forces of labor are moving more and more together, and the possibility of a labor party is becoming more evident every day. This tendency, if it continues, may force upon the country a third strong political party, and then the real puzzle of the campaign will be: "From which old party will the new labor group take the most votes?" This is the political ghost which disturbs the sleep of the politicians.

HAPPY INDIA.

A Hindu lecturer refuses to admit that people are better off in America than in India. The cost of living is a far less serious matter there, he says. A housewife can go to market and buy a dozen fresh eggs for 2 cents and a bushel of potatoes for 10 cents.

That is, if she has the 14 cents—an important point the edition does not consider it necessary to discuss. But if she hasn't, presumably it makes no great difference. The Hindus seem less concerned about food, somehow, than Americans. They can take it or let it alone. A meal is a casual incident, rather than an event.

In the matter of table dishes, the natives are particularly envious. Do they worry about the number of spoons, the cost of chinaware and the quantity of cups and plates broken by the hired girl? They do not. The housewife pays 1 cent for 200 "leaf dishes," which she throws away when the family has eaten from them. That makes housekeeping easy—no kitchen drudgery and no need of expensive dishwashers.

There is commendable economy, says this Hindu, even in the use of those cheap dishes. There are no hundred-piece sets. "We eat with our fingers. That is one of the first things we learn. We eat our soup with our fingers. Of course it makes a little noise, but that is not considered impolite in India!"

SENTRIES IN BAYONET ATTACK ON GHOST

Milan, Italy, Nov. 7.—The great arsenal and powder magazine in the castle of Godego, near the town of Castelfranca Veneto, is unguarded. The sentries who were posted there have fled in alarm at the repeated nightly visits of a strange spectral form.

A few nights ago a soldier was mounting guard over the magazine when a luminous human figure from whose head issued tongue of flame appeared before him at a distance of about twenty feet. The sentinel gave the alarm and the entire guard hurried to the spot. The spectre had in the meantime vanished, but shortly after the arrival of the soldiers it reappeared. The whole company then fired their rifles at the figure which instantly dissolved into a great ball of fire, finally melting away into space.

The following night the apparition was once more seen. A Sicilian soldier of the guard approached the figure with a number of his companions and an attack was made on it with the bayonet. Their furious thrusts however, encountered no tangible resistance and the phantom disappeared in a few moments in a fiery halo which was speedily dissolved in the atmosphere.

The consequence of the strange occurrence has been that all the soldiers have fled from the spot, leaving the depot which is crammed with explosives, entirely unguarded. In the absence of the men a dozen officers volunteered to act as sentries pending an official inquiry into the affair.

Meanwhile, four of the soldiers who were visited by the apparition have gone out of their mind. They are now confined in the military asylum.

XENIA COUNCIL AWARDED FLAG FOR MEMBERS

With impressive and beautiful ceremonies. Pride of Xenia Council, Daughters of America, received Thursday evening the handsome silk flag which was awarded by the National Council for the splendid work done by the local council in the membership campaign which was conducted throughout the state last spring.

In that campaign Pride of Xenia secured 63 new members. This was a larger percentage of gain according to membership than was shown by any other council in the state. The council is already the owner of a silk flag which was the gift of the state council, and was presented at the state convention held in Columbus late in the summer. Obedient Council, this city also made a fine gain in membership, and was presented an unmounted silk flag by the state, but was not fortunate enough to win a national banner.

A. S. Bossong, of Cincinnati, a national officer, who was expected to make the presentation of the flag Thursday evening, was detained at home owing to illness and Mrs. Lillian Carpenter of Springfield, a past state councillor, acted in his place. About 200 people were present, including visitors from Dayton, Springfield and councils throughout the county.

The program opened with the singing of America by the assemblage, and this was followed by a recitation, "How the Juniors Became Daughters of America," by Miss Mary Shaw.

A pretty little tableaux followed. Three children, Kathleen Dove, Mary Burtis and Mary Smith represented Loyalty, Love and Patriotism, while Miss Mary Shumaker recited a selection written and arranged by Mrs. Mattie Hunston, a member of the council.

Miss Glena Shaffer and Miss Helen Ford, young singers of exceptional ability delighted the audience with a duet, "Lullaby."

When the flag floats down the river.

The formal flag presentation followed, short speeches being made by the officers taking part in this ceremony.

An exhibition drill by the degree staff of Pride of Xenia Council, closed the ceremony.

XENIA M. E. CHURCHES WILL HOLD RETREAT MONDAY AFTERNOON

The Xenia Group of Methodist Episcopal churches of the Springfield district will hold a "Retreat" next Monday afternoon and evening; the first session being at 7:30, announces Chas. Bennett, chairman of the group.

The churches in this group are First and Trinity, Xenia, Bowersville, Cedarville, Jamestown, New Jasper, Union and Waynesville.

It is desired that there shall be representatives of Minute Men, Unit leaders, Epworth League Officers, Sunday school officers and teachers, members of official boards, Intercessors and Tithing stewards, from each church on each charge in the group. The pastors will arrange carefully for such representation. Methodist people generally are invited especially for the night meeting which will be addressed by Dr. Wiant, the District superintendent.

A program has been arranged for the afternoon bearing upon the great forward movement of the church in which plans are being formed to secure 1,000,000 persons who shall have been won to Christ and into membership in the church by the first of next June.

Clean Up Poison Soaked Kidneys Advises Dr. Carey

Thousands Die Every Year Because They Allow Poisonous Deposits to Accumulate in Kidneys.

Don't flush your kidneys with harsh makeshifts, says Dr. Carey, they are too frail and delicately constructed to treat them roughly.

For 40 years I have been prescribing Marshroot for kidney and bladder sickness and now that I have retired from active practice I have made arrangements with leading druggists to dispense this wonderful prescription at a moderate price.

Beware of kidney disease thousands die of it every year who ought to be enjoying the blessings of life and health.

If you have specks floating before the eyes, puffs under eyes, clammy feet or moist palms, backache or sideache you ought to get a bottle of Dr. Carey's Marshroot right away.

It has conquered thousands of cases of kidney and bladder diseases and is the medicine you can always depend upon.

IMPORTANT—Dr. Daniel G. Carey has been a practicing physician for many years and his great prescription, "Marshroot," has cured thousands of sufferers from kidney and bladder troubles. It is not a patent medicine and is only sold through drug stores in order to accommodate his patients. Sayre & Hemphill can supply you, adv.

Spent Money Foolishly

"I have been a great sufferer from stomach trouble and gall stones. No one knows the pains I have suffered. Since taking the first dose of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy am feeling fine, can work all day and eat anything I want. Have no more distress or palpitation of the heart from gas on my stomach. I have spent a great deal of money on doctors and medicine but get nothing to help me." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Sayre & Hemphill, and druggists everywhere.

Fewer Sea Eagles Seen.

That the monarch of the air, the sea eagle, has disappeared from Calhoun, as well as from the Orkneys and Shetlands, is a well-authenticated fact. The sea eagle is not very uncommon in the West Highlands, and still builds its nest on various hills abutting on the cliffy coast. The sites of the nests are on the edge of some large and well-stocked sheep farms. The birds have always been accused of killing lambs, as well as hares and winged game, but the charge would be difficult to substantiate.

UNPRECEDENTED SOCIAL UNREST IN U. S. MAKES ESTABLISHMENT OF INDUSTRIAL MEET ESSENTIAL

Washington, Nov. 6.—President Wilson's call for a new industrial conference will not, and indeed, cannot now be long deferred.

With an army of strikers estimated at 1,500,000 already out, and another, calculated at any where from 1,500,000 to 2,000,000 impatiently putting forward demands and threatening to join the ranks of the idle if they are not given satisfaction, the administration, from the chief executive down, is determined to act.

Though official strike figures are not available for the past six months by the department of labor, it is known here that there has never been in the history of the United States greater unrest than at present.

This is reflected in a record breaking number of strikes and in the enormous number of workmen involved. American Federation of Labor officials consider the estimate of a million and a half now out as quite conservative. This number includes 800,000 coal and steel employees.

The trouble is not confined to any one district nor to any particular industry, according to department of labor reports. Nor are men alone involved.

There are more women on strike today than has ever been known before, if indications contained in these reports can be relied on.

In 1916 there were 122 strikes declared by women workers. In 1917

there were 152. In 1918—a year when a sense of patriotic duty held down the number of strikes of all kinds—there were but 86.

But in the first three months of this year, according to the Monthly Labor Review, there were 47 strikes reported among women workers and, says the report, these figures will probably be bigger when complete returns are to be had.

It is estimated that there had already been more strikes of feminine employees up to November of this year than during any entire year preceding.

Higher wages and improved conditions are behind fully ninety per cent of the walkouts. This applies to both men and women.

The right of collective bargaining, recognition of the union, the closed shop, etc., are also subjects of contention.

The next disastrous strike which threatens the country may be looked for on the railways. There are 1,600,000 railway men belonging to unions affiliated with the American Federation of Labor and their leaders declare, they are in such an ugly temper over the struggle to make their pay labor apart and see what makes the high cost of living that they are temporarily restrained from striking—to quote of them—"only by the skin of their teeth."

President Wilson today stands ready to make public the names of the commission selected to attempt a solution of these problems; the experts who are to take capital and labor apart and see what makes the wheels squeak; who are to offer suggestions leading employees and employers to some sort of working understanding; in short, to solve the riddle of the unrest now swamping the land.

And like some specialists, they are expected to discover

1—The cause of the fever and unrest.
2—A remedy for the disease.
3—A regime which the patient may follow in the future lest it fall ill again.

PRESIDENT CAN WRITE WITH TWO HANDS EASILY

Washington, Nov. 7.—President Wilson is ambidextrous.

In addition to his many other unusual accomplishments the president the United States has patiently acquired the ability to use, with equal facility, his right or left hand in signing his name.

The authority for this statement is Rear Admiral Cary T. Grayson, U. S. N., personal friend and physician to the president. Why the president determined to become ambidextrous is a short but interesting story and shows in a new light the painstaking seriousness with which Woodrow Wilson regards his job as head of this great Republic. Here it is:

Roughly speaking, Mr. Wilson signs his name to 15,000 public documents yearly. In addition he autographs thousands of photographs, etc., at the request of admirers and souvenir solicitors, besides attending to his personal correspondence, which is enormous. During the war this signing process was augmented by thousands of commissions for the army and navy. Mr. Wilson is punctilious about his signature. He never slights it and prides himself on the neatness of his work.

As the burden of his autographing grew during his continuance in office Mr. Wilson began to notice sharp pains attacking his right hand, following a long session with his pen. Eventually he took the matter to Dr. Grayson, who diagnosed his trouble as neuritis and advised frequent resting spells. Postponement of work laid before him is the one thing that openly chafes the president and causes irritation in his otherwise extremely serene personality. So, unknown to his doctor friend, he commenced to practice writing with his left hand. With the facility which is one of the President's characteristics in handling all problems, large and small, he was soon able to satisfy himself that he could do as equally a neat job of his name with his left hand as with his right, and the next time Dr. Grayson advised him to quit because of neuritis the president as happily as a child with a new top displayed his new accomplishment.

President Wilson retains this ability even in his present serious illness, and recently signed pardons for six men confined in Federal prisons with an indelible pencil held by his good left hand.

Columbus, Nov. 6.—Sale of ripe olives will be stopped today in all Ohio cities, if local health officers comply with instructions issued to them by the state department of health. The warning is a result of recent fatal poisonings in Canton, Ohio, and Detroit, both of which incidents have been ascribed upon investigation to be botulinus bacilli present in olives of this brand.

A Leave of Absence

By MYRTLE LEE BARROWS

(Copyright, 1919, by the Western Newspaper Union.)

"Wanted by the chief," announced the manager of Porter & Co., wholesale of coffees and spices, and Egbert Clyne repaired to the private office of the senior partner to find there Mr. Porter, his lawyer and the family physician.

Clyne looked puzzled and concerned.

"An indefinite leave," put in the physician, "backed by my certificate that a vacation rest would be beneficial."

"Perhaps I had better explain," interposed the attorney. "It is necessary to the interest of Porter & Co. that you disappear for a time. As head bookkeeper of the house you would probably be subpoenaed in court next week in an important case. It covers a transaction ten years old, an invalid claim, but the records of our books show that it has its merits. On the contrary the same was settled verbally long ago, only the person who was a witness to the settlement cannot be found."

"To simplify things let me explain further," said Mr. Porter. "It was a bookkeeper we had whose evidence would prove the settlement. He was a trusted employee, inherited some means and, with his motherless child, then ten years of age, left our service. We never kept track of him and now that we desperately need his testimony we cannot locate him."

"You see," the lawyer again spoke, "we want to gain a delay. If you cannot be served they will have to await your return to bring our books into court. The delay will give us a chance to try and locate our old bookkeeper—at least, negotiate a compromise settlement."

"So go and forget business cares, with salary and expenses entirely off your mind," directed Mr. Porter.

It was a peculiar situation, but Egbert Clyne asked no further questions. "Lose yourself," were Mr. Porter's final words, "so the court officers can't serve that subpoena."

Clyne had no definite plans in mind, but after consulting a book devoted to advertising summer resorts he selected a remote one. He found Bear Lake well suited to his ideas, wrote to Mr. Porter and set about awaiting orders and enjoying himself.

Bear Lake village was the center of a group of half a dozen bodies of water and Clyne took in the entire chain as the days went by. It was well on towards dusk one evening, and he was fully ten miles from home. He had left a little hamlet known as Point Hope on his return trip. The sky had clouded and a stiff northeaster was roughing the waters when, coming within view of an island about mid-lake, he plied the oars with diligence as a small sailboat he had noticed was struck by a sudden squall and overturned. Clyne fancied that a shriek in feminine accents was borne to his hearing. He bent to the oars prodigiously, arose to his feet and plunged boldly into the water as he made out a girlish figure clinging to the upturned boat. Apparently exhausted, she let go her clasp, sank, reappeared and Clyne gained her side just as she was sinking again. He managed to sustain her, reached his drifting boat and lifted her into it. Upon the island he made out a house and he drove his skiff ashore. A white-haired old man came rushing to the spot.

At the moment the girl revived. Her father and Clyne assisted her to a little cottage, set in a nest of verdure and flowers. When the old man had seen his daughter to her room he insisted that Clyne should get on dry clothes and remain their guest until the storm had subsided.

That was a charming evening for the young man, in the company of John Brice and his daughter, Luella. He learned enough to know that they had lived on the island for a number of years, seeking peace and quiet amid the beauties of nature. Books, music, a modest literary ambition on the part of Mr. Brice and an amateur impulse of art on the part of Luella alleviated any possible tedium of their hermit life. They insisted that Clyne remain till the next morning and, after a refreshing sleep in which all his dreams were of the charming girl he had met, Clyne awoke, found his own clothes dried and pressed and started in to make himself presentable. He scanned twice in some amazement a framed yellowed photograph on the wall. It was a front view picture of the business establishment of Porter & Co.

"Ah! already?" hailed Mr. Brice, passing the open doorway. "Time for a constitutional before breakfast, if it suits you."

"Surely," responded Clyne, "that picture is familiar to me."

"Indeed! It's that of an establishment where I was bookkeeper for nearly twelve years."

"Then my meeting you will be of immense importance to Porter & Co."

It was so important and valued that, after the evidence of the old bookkeeper had been given in court, Mr. Porter presented Brice and Clyne each with a check for five thousand dollars.

And six months later, when Clyne led Luella to the altar, among the wedding presents was a diamond necklace from Mr. Porter.

TRIP TO HOSPITAL AVOIDED FOR THIS COLUMBUS LADY

Husband declares he is glad to publish account of wife's recovery to help others who suffer.

Back was sore and swollen; in bed one month when she started taking Dreco, now up and about the house.

"My wife was confined to her bed for a solid month nearly helpless, and thought an operation would be necessary, but instead she took Dreco, and is now going about attending to the household work," are the words in a signed statement for publication, made by Mr. J. W. Bellamy of 330 East Euclid Ave., Columbus, O.

"Stomach trouble caused her great suffering; gastritis made life miserable; she was nervous; so restless could not sleep; appetite was poor, often did not go to the table at meal times, her kidneys caused her back and side to swell up and finally had to go to bed. Several told me the place for her was a hospital for an operation, but I was afraid she could not stand it. Reading in the paper about Dreco, I got a bottle. Remember, before she started on Dreco she had been in bed a month and was nearly helpless.

"Today my wife is out of bed and going all over the place; hungry all the time; all the swelling gone from her back and side; not troubled now with the gas or indigestion; sleeps sound all night long, and her liver has been thoroughly cleansed, doing away with that drowsy feeling. She thinks Dreco the grandest thing in the world, and so do I."

Dreco acts on the liver, gives strength to weak kidneys, produces a good appetite, induces sound sleep, quiets the nerves and restores the functions of the vital organs. All good druggists now sell Dreco, and it is highly recommended in this city by

COUNTY INFIRMARY MEN HAVE TROUBLE—ARREST

Henry Baumfor, an inmate of the county infirmary, was arrested yesterday on a charge of assault and battery made by F. M. Hurley, another inmate, whom Baumfor is alleged to have beaten. Baumfor was released on bond by Magistrate J. E. Jones, and his hearing set for November 12.

ASSAULT AND BATTERY CHARGED AGAINST TENANT

William Walker, tenant on J. J. Turner's farm near Wilberforce, was placed under arrest by the sheriff yesterday on a charge of assault and battery brought by Mr. Turner. The men are said to have had trouble because stock belonging to Mr. Turner destroyed some crops the property of Mr. Walker. Walker gave bond for his appearance before Magistrate McPherson.

Indisputable Proof.
A druggist was boasting in the company of his friends of his well-assorted stock in trade. "There isn't a drug missing," he said; "not even of the most uncommon sort."

"Come now," said one of the bystanders, by way of a joke, "I'm sure you don't keep spirits of contradiction, as well stocked as you are."

"Why not?" said the druggist, not in the least abashed. "I shall see for yourself." So saying he left the room and returned leading his wife by the hand.—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

Horses Still Numerous.

Despite the large number of motor cars and trucks made in America, horses and mules seem to be holding their own, according to a recent trade statement.

Although 7,700,000 automobiles have been produced in the United States since 1899, half of which were manufactured since 1915, there are now 21,534,000 horses and 4,925,000 mules in the country with a total value of $2,500,000,000.

RHEUMATISM LEAVES YOU FOREVER

Deep Seated Uric Acid Deposits Are Dissolved and the Rheumatic Poison Starts to Leave the System Within Twenty-four Hours.

Every druggist in this county is authorized to say to every rheumatic sufferer in this vicinity that if two bottles of Allenbur's, the sure conqueror of rheumatism, does not stop all agony, reduce swollen joints and do away with even the slightest twinge of rheumatic pain, he will gladly return your money without comment.

Allenbur has been tried and tested for years, and really marvellous results have been accomplished in the most severe cases where the suffering and agony was intense and pitiable and where the patient was helpless.

Allenbur relieves at once. Immediately after you start it the good work begins. It searches out the uric acid deposits, dissolves the secretions and drives rheumatic poison out of the body through the kidneys and bowels.

Allenbur's how quickly it acts! Blessed relief often comes in two days, and even in cases where the suffering has been most painful all traces disappear in a few days.

Mr. James H. Allen, the discoverer of Allenbur, who for many years suffered the torments of acute rheumatism, desires all sufferers to know that he does not want a cent of anyone's money unless Allenbur decisively conquers this worst of all diseases and he has instructed Sayre & Hemphill to guarantee it in every instance.

Seven Things To Be Sure Of IN THE PURCHASE OF YOUR PIPELESS HEATING SYSTEM

- 1 That the quality of heating service assures a comfortable, clean, healthful home in any weather.
- 2 That the convenience of simple operation, regulation, and quick heating compares favorably with much more expensive types of heating systems.
- 3 That the low first cost is due to economy of material and labor instead of cheapness of construction.
- 4 That the fuel bill can be reduced from 1-4 to 1-3—enough to save handsome dividends on the amount invested.
- 5 That the "upkeep," or expense for repairs, is positively less than any other types of heating systems.
- 6 That you are protected at this store, because of the manufacturer's refusal to authorize installation where their trained heating engineers cannot safely guarantee it to operate efficiently in your home, their decision being made after careful study of conditions in your home—no guess work—thus protecting all concerned.
- 7 That the purchase will increase the value of your property more than the amount invested.

FEAR REVOLUTIONARY TREND TO PARIS RAILROAD STRIKE

Paris, Nov. 7.—Fears were expressed today that the proposed general strike of railway workers may take a revolutionary trend. The leaders of the movement declined to say whether it would be confined to a ninety minutes cessation of work to commemorate the establishment of a soviet rule in Russia or would extend into "a revolutionary general strike."

IN MISERY FOR YEARS

Mrs. Courtney Tells How She Was Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Oskaloosa, Iowa.—"For years I was simply in misery from a weakness and awful pains—and nothing seemed to do me any good. A friend advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did so and got relief right away. I can certainly recommend this valuable medicine to other women who suffer, for it has done such good work for me and I know it will help others if they will give it a fair trial."

—Mrs. LIZZIE COURTNEY, 108 8th Ave., West, Oskaloosa, Iowa.

Why will women drag along from day to day, year in and year out, suffering such misery as did Mrs. Courtney, when such letters as this are continually being published. Every woman who suffers from displacements, irregularities, inflammation, ulceration, backache, nervousness, or who is passing through the Change of Life should give this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. SANDRA THE JEALOUS

BY JANE PHELPS.

Barrett Edmonds Calls and Talks of Rose Kemp.

CHAPTER XCII.

Everett was strangely quiet all the way home from the theater. Some way, I felt sorry for him. He wasn't to blame for being old, if he were to blame for marrying me. Finally I stole my hand into his, and his closed around it in a strong warm clasp.

"Am I so horribly old, Sandra?" His question was asked in a whimsical manner, but I knew he had been hurt.

"I never think of your being old except when you are stern and cross with me, or when you treat me like a child. Then I think of you as older, but never at any other time."

"I suppose you are referring to my insistence that Miss Lane remain with us? Oh, Sandra, when will you learn! I cannot for the sake of humoring your likes and dislikes, allow the boy to suffer. What do you know of taking care of a baby—of children's diseases—of what to do for him when he is fretful? I don't want you to lose your looks by being deprived of sleep. And until he is older we cannot trust him with some young thing simply because it would please you better to have her around, than to have a competent, settled woman like Miss Lane. When he is older we can perhaps have one of the trained nurses for children. Until then we must have Miss Lane, or someone like her."

I said no more just then. He had spoken kindly. I had noticed before that whenever anyone spoke of Leola or anything he had done (like marrying me when I was so young) he was always rather obviously kind. I sometimes wondered if he felt sort of guilty.

The next day Mrs. Barton called. "I heard you were at the theater, last night, so felt I might run in and see that baby I hear so much about."

"Indeed you may!" I replied. All feeling of jealousy had left me since Irma Barton had told me she was to be married, and we had been friendly. We never would be intimate.

I sent Hetty for the baby. "Tell Miss Lane a friend of Mr. Graham's has called and wishes to see Junior," I explained. I half feared she might refuse to allow him to be disturbed. She often had when he was asleep or feeding.

Irma Barton looked keenly at me.

"Nurses are awful autocrats aren't they?" she asked. "But it makes a perfect slave of a woman not to have a good one, one who understands children." It was one of her uncanny speeches. It seemed always she could read my thoughts.

"It's no use Mrs. Graham, you don't like her, and hate to have her bossing your baby—usurping your rights. But be glad you have some one to relieve you of responsibility while he is so young. Oh—what a darling!" she broke off as Hetty came in with the baby. "Oh your precious angel!" and for the remainder of her visit her attention was all given to Junior. As she gave him to me, saying she must go, she remarked: "I expect that husband of yours is at last satisfied, I know, he has always longed for a son."

"Yes, I think he is," I responded gravely. But she was hurrying out and didn't seem to notice. I was ready to cry, but had no time because Barrett Edmonds came in right away.

"Have you heard from Rose lately?" he asked after he too had admired the baby, before I sent him back to Miss Lane.

"Yes, I had a letter the other day. Why?"

"Nothing much. But I have just been to Chicago. Kemp is up to his old ricks. I hope it is nothing more serious. But his name is being linked with that of a wealthy widow in a way that looks bad for Rose. Poor girl, why in the world did she run off with that lady-killer?"

"She was absolutely infatuated. Barrett. I do hope things aren't as bad as you think. It would be terrible for her if he should leave her. Did you see her?"

"Yes, but she didn't see me. I passed her in the street. She was with him, and had been crying. She has gone off terribly in her looks. She looks ten years older. I should have stopped and spoken, but they seemed to be having a heated discussion over something, so I passed on."

"I used to build air castles about you and Rose," I told him.

"There never was a chance, little lady," he said. And for some reason there was that in his tone that made me blush furiously.

BABY TIGER IS LEFT ON DOORSTEP

Redwood City, Cal., Nov. 7.—James B. Logan, traffic officer, heard a whimpering on his front doorstep here recently and rose from his bed to answer. There on the stoop was a basket and in that basket carefully wrapped in woolens a "baby."

Cogan took the bundle in his home called his wife and together they opened the basket. It was a "foundling"—a "baby"—but a baby Bengal tiger.

"I wish it had been a real baby," said Logan. "It eats six times as much as an adult."

No one knows where the animal came from.

PLANE CO. CARRIES 20,000 AIR PASSENGERS

London, Nov. 7.—Twenty thousand passengers by air, counting both joy rides and long distance trip, is the record of the Avro Company.

To swell the number and further build a demand for commercial flying the company has organized what it calls a "traveling circus." Aero-planes tour the country, stopping at various towns for so long as the demand for short trips continues, then move on.

Sure Relief

DRINK HOT WATER IF YOU DESIRE A ROSY COMPLEXION

Says we can't help but look better and feel better after an inside bath.

To look one's best and feel one's best is to enjoy an inside bath each morning to flush from the system the previous day's waste, sour fermentations and poisonous toxins before it is absorbed into the blood. Just as coal, when it burns, leaves behind a certain amount of incombustible material in the form of ashes, so the food and drink taken each day leave in the alimentary organs a certain amount of indigestible material, which if not eliminated, form toxins and poisons which are then sucked into the blood through the very ducts which are intended to suck in only nourishment, to sustain the body.

If you want to see the glow of healthy bloom in your cheeks, to see your skin get clearer and clearer, you are told to drink every morning upon arising, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, which is a harmless means of washings the waste material and toxins from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary tract, before putting more food into the stomach.

Men and women with sallow skins, liver spots, pimples or pallid complexion, also those who wake up with a coated tongue, bad taste, nasty breath, others who are bothered with headaches, bilious spells, acid stomach or constipation should begin this phosphate hot water drinking and are assured of very pronounced results in one or two weeks.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate costs very little at the drug store but is sufficient to demonstrate that just as soap and hot water cleanses, purifies and freshens the skin on the outside, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the inside organs. We must always consider that internal sanitation is vastly more important than outside cleanliness, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, while the bowel pores do.
